Two men were killed in a two-car collision (L-9) at the Highway 43 intersection at about 6 this morning, Officer Eddie Plante said.

Taken to Fahey funeral home were the bodies of Phillip W. Corvers, 39, of 3615 Chestnut St., New Orleans, and Woodrow Chapman, 38, of Rt. 1, Daugherty Rd., Long Beach. Although there were no eyewitnesses to the accident, it is assumed that Corvers was traveling east and Chapman west when the accident occurred. Beat 1 Constable Marlan Dean and State Highway Patrolman Fred Curren were investigating officers.

Both victims were dead when a Fahey ambulance arrived at the scene at about 6:30 a.m.

Corvers' body has been transferred to Sharp funeral home, New Orleans. A bookkeeper, he is survived by his wife, Dolis; two daughters, Betty, 19, and Jana, 11, and parents, Phillip Martin and Dylis Booy Corvers. He was born July 7, 1919, at Independence, La.

The body of Chapman, a construction worker, has been taken to Leonard funeral home at Gulfport. He is survived by his wife, Vera. There were no passengers in either car.

The deaths were attributed to the accident by a coroner's jury headed by Mr. Piazza. Jurors were J. T. Jacobs, Joseph E. Bennett, Woodrow LaFontaine, Robert Zengering, Lamar Otis and Waldo Dean. Constable Dean was bailiff.

ILLINOIS YOUTH ON CROSS-COUNTRY TRIP

Youth Visits Here on Trip Across U.S. on Horseback

A 19-year-old Cisne, Illinois youth is continuing the great American tradition of adventure on a horseback trip across the United States from Illinois to California.

Roger Hendricks, who is visiting in Hancock County before going on to Texas, left several weeks ago with two horses given to him by his father and enough food and supplies to last his first stop.

Since then he has stopped along the way to work when supplies ran low. When he came to Hancock County he met Mrs. C. Moran of Lower Bay Rd. in the courthouse, where he had come to get a county map. Later he invited him to stay in the home while he was here.

He also was a guest of the Otis Lader family.

"There are wonderful people here," said the smiling, soft spoken youth, who will enter Bethel College at McKenzie, Tenn., next fall as a pre-law student. "In fact," he added, "they're as nice as any I've met so far."

Roger and his horses, Chiquita and Snapshot, have traveled through Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. The trip will carry them through Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona to California. There he hopes to buy a horse trailer for the return to Cisne.

"I've been riding since I was 8 and my father gave me a pony. For me, this has always seemed the only way to see the country. This trip will give me something to remember all my life," he said.

Before he left Cisne, Roger chose seven spots en route, including Hancock County, in which he wanted to spend some time. When he reaches one of these stopovers he goes first to the post office for mail which has been forwarded from home and then to the courthouse for a county map. He has had no trouble so far, he said, in meeting friendly people eager to help a youth fulfill a dream.

Word Awaited By Commuters On ICC Hearing

Gulf Coast commuters may know the results Friday of their plea for a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the proposed discontinuance of Louisville and Nashville Railroad commuter trains Nos. 9 and 12, Rudolph Verbusch, president of the Gulf Coast Commuters Association, said Wednesday.

Members of the Commuters Association and interested local businessmen and governing officials met last week in Bay High School auditorium to discuss methods of convincing the ICC of the need for a hearing. The railroad announced last month that it had applied to the ICC for permission to discontinue the trains by Jan. 2. The company alleged that losses from operation of the trains amounted to $70,000 annually.

Mr. Verbusch explained at last week's meeting that a hearing would not be held for at least four months, which would allow more time to try to block the proposed L and N move.

"If the train is discontinued Jan. 2 it will be terribly difficult ever to get it back," Mr. Verbusch said.

"Discontinuance of the trains would throw the Gulf Coast back several years," he added. "A community depends upon transportation for its continued growth, and without adequate transportation facilities it can only decline."

Commuters and other interested citizens were asked to send individual telegrams and clippings to the ICC. Another request for funds to carry on the fight for a hearing and to successfully stage one if granted brought in more than $1,100 in pledges and contributions.

Included in the flood of protests sent since then to the ICC, Mr. Verbusch said, are statements from the Mississippi and Louisiana Public Service Commissions. Mr. Verbusch added that many citizens' protests had been acknowledged by the ICC.

No definite word has been received on the results of the request for a hearing, Mr. Verbusch said, but word is expected by Friday.

Margin Is More Than 5-1 For Expansion of Schools; Turnout Unusually Heavy

An unusually heavy turnout of nearly 50 per cent of qualified voters approved the $185,000 Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System bond issue by a margin of more than 5 to 1 in a special election Tuesday.

The vote was 1,040 in favor of the bond issue to 202 opposed. The bond issue, which was favored by 83 per cent of those who voted, will provide funds for a $240,000 building program which will include:

A $185,000, 16-classroom white elementary school on the 29-acre Dunbar Ave. site owned by the school system.

A $40,000, four-classroom addition to Valena C. Jones Negro school.

A $12,000 lunchroom addition to Waveland School.

Charles Proffer, Gulfport architect of the firm of Kuykendall and Proffer, will design the new building and additions.

Construction will begin as soon as the bonds have been sold and bids have been advertised. Joe D. McCulloch, school superintendent, said. The building program is scheduled for completion by September, 1959.

A breakdown of voting by polls shows:

N. Bay St. Louis	438	80
S. Bay St. Louis	274	60
Edwardsville	67	5
Arlington	28	0
Waveland	176	46
Outside Bay St. L.	57	11

Mr. McCulloch said, after returns were counted, "The School Board of Bay St. Louis and I wish to express our appreciation to all individuals of this community and surrounding territory for the efforts that were made by each person, in bringing our school bond issue to an overwhelming victory."

"This has shown us that the people of this community are willing to sacrifice part of their income each year in helping support the public schools of this community. All of us are indeed proud to live in such a progressive community. This victory will mean much to all of us, especially the education

State Commission Deciding On Plans for New Hospital

The Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care was scheduled to report to the Board of Supervisors this afternoon its approval or rejection of final plans for a proposed new Hancock County Hospital prepared by Gulfport architect Wilfred Dawson.

The Board of Supervisors agreed Monday that if the plans were not ready in time for commission approval by today the architect definitely would be released.

In other business Monday the supervisors rejected a plan submitted by Blue Cross Health Insurance representatives Morris Raines, Butelle Graham and John Moon. The plan is one for volume enrollment of all county employees at a preferred rate.

Mr. Favre said the plan actually would not care for the charity cases whose hospital expenses required insurance or other outside aid. However, the county would be spending money on many employees who might never need insurance.

It was suggested that less funds would be spent simply in paying for charity cases.

A Commendable Decision

The majority of more than 5 to 1 by which voters approved the school bond issue in Tuesday's election is a commendable demonstration of the community's interest in the welfare of its younger citizens.

As is the case in virtually every election, some heated arguments developed at times and some undercover efforts were made to defeat a program that is for the benefit of the community as a whole.

The turnout of 1,242 voters in a special election is ample proof that when issues are publicized fairly and impartially and the voters are informed truthfully and factually as to the need for civic improvements they will go to the polls to make their decision.

Now that the electorate has taken the first vital step, and taken it correctly, next need is to proceed without delay on this justified expansion of the Bay St. Louis school system.

Legion Looks for Lead

The Mississippi department of the American Legion has launched a campaign designed to put the state in the leading position in the Legion national convention parade at Minneapolis next August.

The Mississippi delegation in the parade will be led by Miss Mary Ann Mobley, the state's famous Miss America. Parade positions for the various states are determined on the basis of membership percentage-wise. The 200 posts of the American Legion in Mississippi have started their greatest recruiting drive in an effort to capture the coveted leading position in the parade for the state and for Miss America.

The State Board of Architects has been asked to design a special float for Miss America. It will be constructed from Mississippi products and will be taken across country to Minneapolis-St. Paul, with many stops en route. This should bring much favorable publicity to Mississippi in all the areas that are visited by the caravan of bands and floats.

State Legion Commander Gary Moore of Winona has asked all public-spirited, civic-minded groups to join the campaign by assisting Legion posts in a drive to win for Mississippi the leading position in the parade. The resultant press, radio and television publicity which always is afforded to the leading state in the parade makes this American Legion effort one that is worthy of the full support of all citizens and organizations in Mississippi.

A Golden Rule for a Happy Yule

A flash from a faulty Christmas tree lighting set... and tragedy strikes. First the tree, then the draperies, and in minutes a sleeping household can be trapped in destructive flames.

A bad dream? No, unfortunately this deadly event will occur many times across the nation during the coming Christmas holidays. It could happen here unless...

You heed preventive measures to avoid disaster from holiday fires.

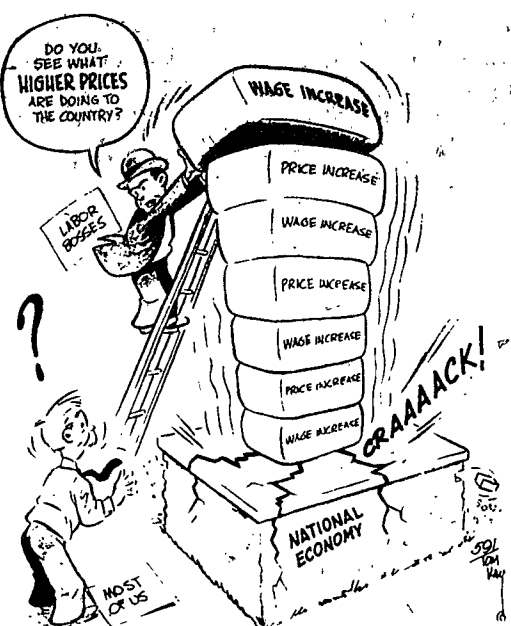

One outstanding program in behalf of fire safety at Yuletide is the Junior Fire Marshal program sponsored nationally by the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. Hancock Insurance Agency here has joined with thousands of Hartford agents throughout the nation, enlisting the aid of some 4,000,000 youngsters to combat effectively the result from carelessness at Christmas time.

During the next few days local Junior Fire Marshals will affix to Christmas trees in the community's markets, shops and stores holiday safety tags that urge you to observe safe and sane fire rules. The tags, with gold-colored printing and in the shape of a 6-inch ruler, carry the slogan, "A Golden Rule for a Happy Yule." Listed are seven suggestions to protect the home from Christmas tree fires. They are worth reading -- and following:

- 1 - Stand tree in water or bucket of wet sand.
- 2 - Check tree lights for frayed wire, loose sockets.
- 3 - Keep tree away from radiator, fireplace and doors.
- 4 - Use only fire-resistant decorations.
- 5 - Turn off tree lights when you go out.
- 6 - Keep gift wrappings and electric trains away from tree.
- 7 - When needles start to fall, remove tree from house.

National Review reports on government in business: "While one military service was buying sun glasses for $5 a pair, another was selling them as surplus at less than $1. One agency of the government is revealed to have sold rice, for export, at $40 a ton to a firm which promptly resold it to another government agency for $60 a ton."

In the view of President William A. McDonnell of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, "The first order of business in the next session of Congress should be the passage of labor reform legislation with enough teeth in it to run down the racketeers and racketeers out of the labor movement." He described the defeated Kennedy (yes bill) as "more of a bribe for union labor racketeers and racketeers than a patch on the jaw."

Will They Ever Learn?

Thousands of Infants Born Each Year With Defects

First of three articles on birth defects, the leading childhood health problem, by Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, medical vice president of the National Foundation, noted pediatrician and dean of American virologists.

By THOMAS M. RIVERS

The first question every woman asks immediately after the birth of a child is: "My baby — is my baby all right?"

In most instances the answer is yes. Then the mother relaxes with a sense of fulfillment and joy.

But sometimes a baby is born with birth defects, known technically in the medical profession as congenital malformations. Then expectancy turns to anxiety and grief — the most heartbreaking grief a woman can know. If the defects are serious, the entire family may face a lifetime of mental, physical and economic strain.

On the positive side there is this to say: Significant birth defects occur in only a relatively small portion of the infants who come into the world every year. Some defects can be repaired by surgery. Others can be so improved by the modern science of rehabilitation that by the time the child reaches maturity he may be capable of leading a normal life and doing useful work. Above all, many in-born defects can be prevented by knowledge and simple precautions.

Beyond this lies ever greater hope for the future. Until recently birth defects have been neglected. But now medical science is tackling this problem that lies so close to the hopes and fears of every prospective parent. An organized, concentrated attack at this stage can bring about vast improvement in the care, rehabilitation and eventual prevention of malformed children.

The news that the National Foundation (originally the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis) has taken up the challenge of birth defects is a hopeful promise for the future. The National Foundation is the voluntary health organization that educated the American public in the care and prevention of polio. With March of Dimes funds its grantees planned, set up and carried out the prodigious research program that produced the Salk vaccine and a whole series of history-making medical discoveries. It is not unreasonable, therefore, to expect from its sponsored scientists equally important advances concerning the causes and treatment of congenital malformations.

Birth defects are probably the major unmet childhood medical problem. They are exceedingly common, as a cause of crippling and disability in children. They cause the death of 34,000 infants, or one-fourth of all U.S. infants, who are stillborn or die within the first months of life.

Children born in this country each year with significant birth defects number about a quarter of a million. Approximately half of these are doomed to serious crippling or prolonged disability. Combinations of defects in one child are not unusual.

There are 600 different kinds of birth defects. Some are minor like poor eyesight, flat feet or color blindness. These present no major hazard to the normal functioning of the child. More serious defects, widely known and recognized, include harelip and cleft palate, clubfoot, missing extremities, congenital cataracts and brain injuries.

Rarer, but just as serious, are spina bifida, a deformity of the spinal vertebrae; encephalocele, a deformity similar to spina bifida except that the skull instead of the spine is open; hydrocephalus, an accumulation of excess fluids in the cavities of the brain (commonly known as "water on the brain").

Birth defects are grouped in the following main categories:

Malformations of the skeletal structure, with an estimated 112,700 afflicted infants annually surviving the first four weeks of life; disorders of the central nervous system, 32,500 infants annually; skin anomalies, 30,000; congenital heart and vascular disease, 29,000; urogenital malformations, 27,500; eye disorders, 14,100; gastro-intestinal malformations, 12,000; other anomalies, 6,700.

But these figures do not tell the whole story. The importance of birth defects as a medical problem is growing, according to the Vital Statistics of the United States, the number of children who died as a result of congenital malformations rose from 12,413 in 1939 to 20,012 in 1953. At the same time, the number of malformed children who survived into adolescence and maturity continues to grow. One reason is that technique of diagnosis have so improved that some defects not obvious at birth can be found and treated earlier. Another is that modern surgery keeps alive many malformed children who would once have been doomed to early death. Furthermore, deaths from normal child diseases have been radically reduced by antibiotics and other modern medical measures.

There is another way in which the problem of birth defects offers a challenge of the first magnitude. This lies in the realm of popular attitudes and public education. Largely as a result of hearsay, folklore and ignorance, many of the congenitally malformed are socially stigmatized. This unjust stigma often attaches itself to the parents as well as to the child.

It is important, too, to correct parental attitudes in relation to defective children. If the sense of stigma were removed, parents would be more willing to take their children to appropriate medical facilities for diagnosis and treatment. As with most health disorders, the earlier a birth defect is detected, the more successfully it may respond to correction or rehabilitation.

All this calls for a program of public education not unlike that which broke down popular misconceptions preliminary to controlling such major health problems as venereal disease, tuberculosis and polio. Once these attitudes have been modified, we can establish a "climate" of thought favorable to the support and understanding of a concerted advance on the challenge of birth defects.

Besides birth defects, other areas of March of Dimes activity are polio, arthritis and virus diseases.

PROFIT AND COMPETITION

Federic G. Donner, new board chairman of General Motors Corp., in an address delivered at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, made the following comment:

"From almost any way we view it, our standard of living is the result of change—of our tireless search for the new and the better. The struggle for improvement never ceases.

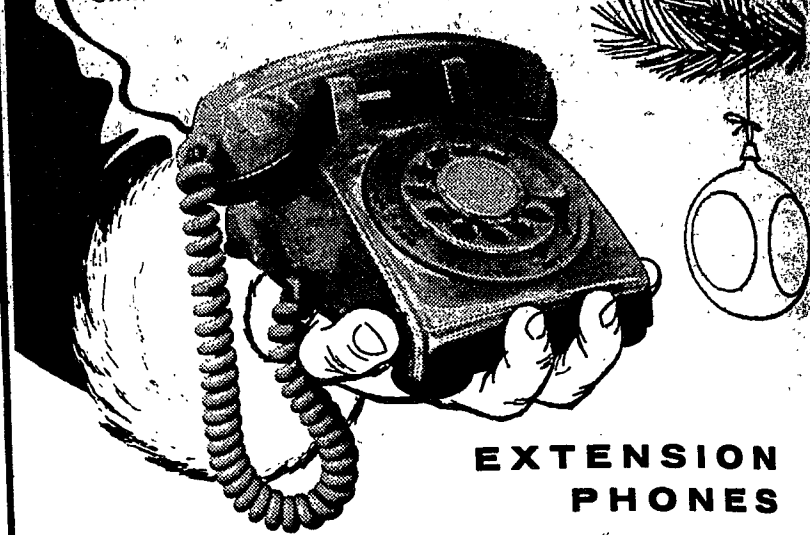

"But why is change characteristic of America? In my opinion, it is a direct result of the way we have organized ourselves to carry on the business of living. At the very heart of this system are two powerful forces — the hope of profit and the discipline of competitive markets.

"The hope of profit is the mainspring of constructive change. Competition is the spur that transforms new ideas into new products at the lowest possible prices. Whether the first step of a series of changes is big or little, the pressure of competition results in their rapid spread to other firms in an industry, thus opening up additional opportunities and creating more jobs.

"No other system has so successfully turned each man's natural interest in his own advancement to the productive service of the needs of society. No other system holds out such great potential rewards to the successful innovator. It encourages enlightened self-interest in its most useful form."

An excellent description of "The American Way" by the chief executive of General Motors.

Shooting Case Retrial Slated

Convicted Hancock County man will receive a new trial on the basis of a U. S. Supreme Court decision that it is only one crime to shoot two persons with a single shot.

Lovander Lader was sentenced in 1944 to 20 years' imprisonment for the shooting of two alcohol tax agents. The shooting occurred in Hancock County as the agents were taking three arrested men to the Gulfport jail.

Lader began proceedings 10 years after his commitment to have the sentence cut to one 10-year term, claiming that he had used only one shot to wound both federal officers.

Justice Brennan delivered the 8-1 decision. The lone dissenter was Justice Clark who said it appears the court "clearly informs the criminal, if I might be permitted to borrow a phrase, that assaults on the lives of federal officers come as 'cheap as the dozen'."

The convicted man was granted a new trial after an earlier hearing Jan. 6, 1958, when the court by a 4-4 vote affirmed the two prison terms given to Lader.

Monday's decision was based on interpretation of a congressional act designed to protect federal officers. Brennan said the court follows the policy of adopting the least harsh meaning possible to find in a statute.

Now a U. S. District Court hearing must be held to determine whether only one shot actually was fired, Justice Brennan said.

"If Congress desires to create multiple offense from a single act affecting more than one federal officer, Congress can make that meaning clear. We thus hold that the single discharge of a shotgun alleged by the petitioner Lader in this case would constitute only a violation," the justice added.

Lader was released Aug. 30, 1957, on parole.

Auto Strikes, Bruises Girl

An 11-year-old New Orleans girl escaped serious injury at 7:10 p.m. Saturday when struck by a car at US-90 and Main St.

Yvonne Swanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swanton, 1629 Franklin Ave., New Orleans, was released from Hancock County Hospital after treatment for bruises.

Operator of the car which struck the girl was August Scalfidi Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Scalfidi. Sheriff Sylvan Lader said young Scalfidi was traveling east on US-90 when the child darted into his path while trying to retrieve a lost article from her mother's purse.

Sheriff Lader reported that apparently the child had opened her mother's purse and a paper had blown from it and she had chased the lost article across the highway. Scalfidi told the sheriff he saw the child and tried to avoid hitting her but could not.

Two Thefts Are Reported At Stations

The thefts, both in established businesses, were reported to the police by J. Lader, report of a very quiet week.

McArthur, owner of McArthur's restaurant and service station, reported two thefts from her. They occurred on Dec. 11 after purchasing a deposit bag she kept in the counter and went to the restaurant to get cigarettes.

When she returned, she said the bag was missing. Mrs. McArthur told the sheriff the bag contained $21 in cash and silver.

She described the men as being in their mid-20s, wearing dark suits and light shirts, carrying a dark sedan with Louisiana license tag. She was unable to furnish any other details.

Sheriff Lader was assisted in investigation by Deputy Rao and State Highway Patrolman J. Y. Thomas.

At 12:30 a.m. Friday Sheriff said Ben Woods, owner of the Shell Trucktown, US-90, reported $50 missing from a register in the service station.

Mr. Woods told the sheriff one of his employees, Walt Wiley, 54, had left suddenly that night. Shortly after Mr. Woods found the money was missing.

Sheriff Lader and Deputy Rao conducted an unsuccessful search for Bailey's Arm Broken Fall in Home

(Ricky) Richards, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson, suffered a broken arm Friday night when he fell playing in his home.

He was taken to Hancock County Hospital and released after being taken and a cast was applied.

Two Thefts Are Reported At Stations

Two thefts, both in establishments, were reported on US-90, marred what Sheriff Lader reported as a very quiet week. Sheriff Lader said that Mrs. McArthur, owner of McArthur's restaurant and service station on US-90 near the road, reported two young men entered the restaurant about 11 a.m. Dec. 11 after purchasing from her. They ordered a couple of cigarettes and two beers, paying her with a $10 bill. She gave them change and a deposit bag she kept at the counter and went to the rear of the restaurant to get cigarettes. When she returned, she said, the men and the bag were missing. Mrs. McArthur told the sheriff the bag contained $202 in cash and silver. She described the men as being in their mid-20s, wearing dark trousers and light shirts and driving a dark sedan with a Louisiana license tag. She was unable to furnish any other details. Sheriff Lader was assisted in his investigation by Deputy Raoul Ballard and State Highway Trooper J. Y. Thomas. At 12:30 a.m. Friday Sheriff Lader said Ben Woods, owner of the Shell Trucktown, US-90, reported $50 missing from the register in the service station. Mr. Woods told the sheriff one of his employees, Walter May, 54, had left suddenly that night. Shortly after, Mr. Woods found the money was missing. Sheriff Lader and Deputy Raoul Ballard conducted an unsuccessful search for Bailey.

Man's Arm Broken Fall in Home

Farmers Facing Deadline On Conservation Practices

Only a few days remain for farmers to obtain assistance and carry out conservation practices under the 1958 agricultural conservation program, Fitzhugh Lee, chairman of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded today. The committee chairman said 1958 ACP practices must be completed before Dec. 31. In those cases where it is not possible for a farmer to complete his practice by Dec. 31, the county committee in individual cases may extend the time for completion of the practice past the end of the year, provided the practice is substantially completed by Dec. 31, and the farmer requests an extension of time to complete the practice. Mr. Lee said December is an ideal month to plant coastal Bermuda grass. Coastal Bermuda grass is an improved Bermuda grass that grows well in sandy type soils and it has proved very desirable for grazing and for hay, as well as providing excellent cover and protection of the soil from erosion. The payment rate for planting coastal Bermuda grass is approximately 65 per cent of the average cost of the sods, fertilizing material and lime needed for the successful establishment of the practice.

Mr. French, who operated French Cleaners at Handboro the last 12 years, said charges will amount to 25 cents a washing load and 10 cents for each 10 minutes of drying time. Free use of the dryers will be offered on opening day.

County Agent Notes

Meat Type Hogs Best

If you raise hogs for market, meat type hogs will make more money for you.

The more muscular, meatier hog costs less to produce, commands top prices at market and provides the kind of pork the average consumer demands.

Years show that meat type hogs gain just as fast as fat types and at a feed saving of about $1 for each 200 pounds of pork. The higher percentage of high value pork cuts in meat type hogs makes them more desirable to buyers.

On a live weight basis, meat type hogs yield 34 to 37 per cent in the four lean cuts — ham, loin, Boston butt and picnic. Some of the fat types yield 30 per cent or less.

Meat type hogs can be produced by selecting gilts and boars that have adequate length — a 30-inch carcass on a 200-pound hog. They should have thick, muscular conformation with just enough fat at market weight to give quality and flavor to the cuts. They must come from sows that farrow and raise large litters of pigs. They must be fast growing and convert feed into pork efficiently.

Strive for nine or more pigs to a litter, 100 pounds of live hog for 325 pounds of feed and have the hogs ready for market at 200 pounds in 5 1/2 months.

Grazing Is Controlled

Early winter grazing that has been grazed for several weeks should be watched for overgrazing. When oats or wheat are grazed closer than two inches to the ground, little more growth will be had this winter.

You can control this overgrazing two ways: One is to have enough acreage so that overgrazing will not be a problem; the other is to manage the area by giving the cows a few hours grazing only each day.

Cotton Revenue Lost

Mississippi farmers in 1958 lost 3 1/2 million dollars and some 27,000 acres from cotton allotments. This came about by planting only 86 per cent of the allotted acres and not releasing the unwanted acres for redistribution.

Next year, if farmers decide not to plant cotton allotments, either in full or part, they should notify the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

The only way for Mississippi to lose cotton acres is for farmers not to plant their allotments and fail to release to the local ASC committee the unwanted acres.

Christmas Pageant Is Scheduled Sunday

Students in Christ Episcopal Sunday School classes will present a Christmas pageant in the church at 5 p.m. Sunday. Immediately after the pageant, the annual Christmas party will be held in the parish house.

Liquor Places Target of Raid By Guardsmen

Five bootleg liquor places on Hwy. 43, just inside the Hancock County line, were raided Dec. 6 by National Guardsmen for the third time in three years.

Arrested and charged with violation of the state prohibition laws before being released on $500 bond each were:

Francis (Goat) Lee, former member of the state house of representatives from Hancock County and operator of a place on Hwy. 43, about five miles inside the county line.

Harry Blackwell, operator of the Halfway drive-in.

Only a small quantity of liquor and no gambling equipment were turned up in the raid ordered by Gov. J. P. Coleman, who had been petitioned by several dozen Pearl River County residents. The complaints reportedly charged that the places were enticing teen-agers from that part of Pearl River County.

Confiscated were about eight cases of whisky, 50 gallons of assorted wines and about 85 cases of beer being sold without a beer license.

Trial is set for Saturday before Justice of the Peace Jack Brunson at Saint Rosa.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner said he and his deputies had raided the places on five previous occasions and had taken approximately 3,000 cans of beer and a quantity of whisky and wine from them. However, Sheriff Ladner said, the arrested proprietors of the places were acquitted each time after trial.

Wedding Camel-Drummond

In a quiet and impressive ceremony in the Church of the Most Holy Name of Jesus at New Orleans, Miss Norma Ann Drummond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norma Douglas Drummond, became the bride of Lester Joseph Camel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Adrian Camel.

Simple arrangements of white blossoms and candles were on the altar for the nuptial mass celebrated by the Rev. A. B. Goodspeed.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of pure white peau de soie in the new short length. The dress was fashioned on simple lines and was trimmed with delicate appliques of lace and seed pearls. She wore a chapel length veil attached to a tiara of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white bride's roses centered with a single white orchid. Her only jewelry was an antique diamond cross owned by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Henry Schlayer.

Miss Peggy Anderson was maid of honor and the bridesmaid was Miss Roberta Dean of New Orleans. They wore ballerina length frocks of electric blue peau de soie made with sweetheart necklines and wide matching sashes. Sprays of Bird of Paradise blossoms and matching accessories complemented their outfits.

Frank Godfrey, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man and a brother of the bride, Harold Drummond, was groomsmen.

Acting as ushers were Roland Clemmons and Donald Riches. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Drummond selected a French blue afternoon gown of peau de soie accented with matching accessories and a corsage of white gladiolus pinned on her purse. Mrs. Camel wore an emerald green taffeta dress and a small matching hat. At one shoulder was pinned a bronze orchid.

The young couple left by plane later in the day for their wedding trip to Miami, Fla. For traveling, Mrs. Camel wore a two piece woolen dress of deep blue with harmonizing accessories and a chic white hat. She also wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return, they plan to make their home at New Orleans. Bay St. Louis residents who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wardell, grandparents of the bride.

Engagement Has Interest Locally

Christmas Flower Winners Are

The Bay St. Louis Youth Center was the scene Dec. 11 of a Christmas flower show and regular meeting of Bay-Waveland Garden Club. More than 100 members and their guests attended the show.

During the business session which preceded the show, Mrs. Frank Embrey reported on the Christmas open house sponsored by the executive committee of the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs held at Pascagoula. Mrs. Embrey was chairman of the sales table of the local club and reported her sales to have been very successful. She thanked her appreciation to the many who assisted in the project.

Yearbooks were distributed to members who did not receive one. One was asked to call Mrs. Embrey or Mrs. Paul Miller, secretary, for more information. The anniversary theme has been used in the books designed by Mrs. Embrey.

A large group of Christmas decorations and arrangements constructed of other materials was displayed and Mrs. H. M. Keefe announced these winners: senior decorator, Mrs. Embrey, 2nd; Mrs. J. E. Erwin, 2nd; Mrs. Alice Buckner, 3rd; Mrs. Paul Miller, 2nd; Mrs. J. E. Erwin, 3rd; Mrs. Dan Russell, 1st; Mrs. Keefe, 2nd; Mrs. Whitwell, 3rd; nursery or play-

Library To Close For Several Days

City-County Memorial Library will close Tuesday night and reopen the morning of Dec. 29 because of the Christmas holidays, Miss Louise Crawford, librarian, has announced. The library also will be closed Jan. 1, she said.

Miss Crawford reminded patrons of the library that a number of overdue books are out and should be returned before the beginning of the new year. There will be no fine for these overdue books.

Youth Center Has a Third Of Fund Goal

A little more than a third of the $1,500 goal of the annual Bay St. Louis Youth Center fund drive was reached Tuesday, according to an announcement made by City Commissioner J. Cyril Glover, treasurer.

Fund Drive Chairman J. W. Watts said that funds are needed badly to operate the popular gathering place for young persons of the region and, to date, the drive is progressing much slower than it has in former years. Mr. Watts explained that public subscription and small donations from the city are the only sources of revenue.

Donations this week included: Anonymous $5; Paul M. Miller 111, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Whitfield, $10; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Coward, $5; Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Kepner, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Chapman, $2; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Weathers, $5; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goldman, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Guenard, $5; Magnolia State Supply, $10.

A Gift Idea: Santa Candy Jar

Santa never had it so good, filled to the brim with candies. And your holiday guests will enjoy helping themselves to candy from a Santa Candy Jar.

Here's how he made. First locate a glass chimney from a hurricane lamp or an old fashioned kerosene lamp. You may have one at home, or check any hardware store. This serves as the candy holder to be decorated with Santa's cheery face. Cut a circular base of Styrofoam, using a luncheon plate as a guide, and a sharp paring knife for the cutting tool. Firmly but carefully press the bottom of the chimney about one-fourth inch into the base, making certain pressure is not great enough to break the glass. Use a circular motion. Glue on eyes and moustache of felt. Tuck fluffy feathers about his chin for a beard.

Santa is famous for his long red cap. Make it by attaching red felt to a disc of Styrofoam cut with a coffee cup for a guide.

The table decoration is so easy to make and all materials are available at variety store Christmas counters. You may wish to try two or three face ideas, carolers for one. The clever candy jar makes an inexpensive pre-Christmas gift for neighbors and family.

Marked Progress Reported in State On Road Network

Progress on the biggest construction project ever undertaken in Mississippi - the building of a 670-mile system of new interstate highways - is well underway. Today, miles of the new superhighway are under construction.

With all this work under way and the recent opening of the first major completed section of Mississippi's interstate system - 13 miles on Route 20 between Jackson and Vicksburg - Mississippi can point with pride to the fact that it is one of the leading states in the construction of the vast network of new superhighways that soon will span the nation.
